Whistler is a gateway to some of the most stunning mountain landscapes in British Columbia, a global epicentre for outdoor adventure. Two side-by-side mountains spanned by the world-record-breaking PEAK 2 PEAK Gondola give access to Whistler Blackcomb's renowned alpine terrain, drawing hikers, skiers and mountain bikers in search of mind-blowing landscapes. Massive glaciers, volcanic peaks and ancient rubble fields line the network of alpine trails and stimulate the senses on foot, on skis or by bike.

In the valley's lower elevation, a coastal climate delivers a lush contrast to the volcanic alpine environment. Sparkling glacier-fed lakes, towering old-growth forests, waterfalls, beaches, parks and golf courses are linked by a network of paved trails. Year-round, the place teems with life. Bears roam freely on the golf courses in spring's warm glow. Alpine lakes shine emerald green in summer. Trees illuminate the fall with brilliant yellow and red leaves. And winter's thick blanket of snow covers every surface with magic. So, no matter when you visit, nature is set to inspire.

Whistler Village is the beating heart of a social community where locals bring their up-for-anything attitude to every shop, restaurant and gathering place – its energy is palpable.
